

VICTOR STANOVY

VIENNA, AUSTRIA • CREATIVE TECHNOLOGY • JOURNALISM • PRODUCT & BRAND DEVELOPMENT

PROFILE

Student entrepreneur and project builder focused on turning ideas into real products, publications, and communities. I combine creative direction, technology, writing, branding, and practical leadership. I enjoy starting projects from the ground up, defining their identity, building the experience, and bringing people together around a clear idea.

LEADERSHIP & STRENGTHS

|---------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Project Leadership | Taking ideas from concept to execution, setting direction, organizing work, and keeping projects moving. |
| Creative Direction | Developing visual identities, websites, editorial styles, product concepts, and user experiences.        |
| Entrepreneurship   | Building independent projects around real audiences, products, and opportunities.                        |
| Communication      | Writing professional correspondence, editorial content, presentations, and project documentation.        |
| Technology         | Hands-on interest in electronics, embedded systems, web development, prototyping, and digital tools.     |
| Initiative         | Comfortable starting projects independently and learning whatever is needed to make them work.           |

SELECTED PROJECTS

PocketUnion | Founder / Brand & Product Development

A travel-notebook concept built around using small moments of travel and waiting to reflect, write, and disconnect from the digital world. Developed the brand concept, positioning, messaging, and product direction.

SparkNews™ | Founder / Editor / Project Lead

A student newspaper and journalism project designed to operate beyond a single classroom. Developed its editorial identity, website, publication concepts, newsroom culture, and professional communication.

Variable™ | Founder / Product & Creative Direction

A custom-electronics concept focused on turning people's ideas into real hardware. Developed product concepts, educational kits, customer workflows, brand positioning, and an engineering-focused project platform.

Fieldonia | Founder / Project & Governance Design

A micronation project exploring how a fictional state can be organized through institutions, territories, documents, and visual identity.

EXPERIENCE IN PRACTICE

Independent Project Development

Develop and lead self-directed projects across entrepreneurship, journalism, technology, product design, and branding.

Student Journalism

Lead editorial projects, coordinate independent journalists, develop publication standards, and create professional-facing communications.

Product & Technology

Explore electronics and embedded systems through hands-on projects, prototyping, and product development.
